L&M Petroleum has appointed Dr Chris McKeown as commercial manager.

Dr McKeown joins L&M from Austral Pacific Energy (Austral) where he was asset manager for the Cheal oil field in New Zealand's onshore Taranaki Basin, in which he had overall responsibility for asset integrity, reservoir management and project operations, including negotiating all contracts related to oil and gas handling, transportation, sales and marketing.

Dr McKeown has previously held the key strategic roles of: ceo of a pre-IPO E&P company; Upstream fuels manager for a major power generation company; Business development manager and reservoir engineer.

He holds a PhD in Geology and Applied Geology from the University of Glasgow in Scotland. ■

Drug and alcohol testing and screening specialist Frontline Diagnostics has appointed Suzanne Price to the new position of national training and OHS manager.

Ms Price's role will involve training Frontline Diagnostics' staff and clients in correct safety procedure relating to drug and alcohol testing as well as establishing policies and procedures and advising Frontline Diagnostics' clients.

Ms Price was most recently with transport and infrastructure company Asciano in a training and safety role. Prior to that she worked in the pathology industry. Throughout her career she has received on the job training and undertaken training in safety management systems, workplace training, behavioural change and more. ■
